A service of
LESSONS & CAROLS

Saturday, December 1, 2018
5:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Get into the holiday spirit with "A Service of Lessons & Carols."

This beautiful evening features Ben Gulley, American operatic grande tenor, and Goitseman Lehobye, South African soprano as well as choirs from Montverde Academy, First Unitarian Church of Orlando, and the Florida Vocal Arts Choir in the performance of the "Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols."

Ben Gulley

American operatic grande tenor, Ben Gulley, has been hailed as an outstanding tenor with a voice as seamless as simple speech. His career is burgeoning with lead and feature roles in opera, solo engagements, concert work, film work, nationwide touring, and prestigious appearances abroad.

Goitseman Lehobye

South African soprano, Goitseman Lehobye, will also be performing in this year's Lesson & Carols. Her most recent accomplishments include "Music for Mandela" South Africa tour with the Minnesota Orchestra. She studied at The South African College of Music, University of Cape Town, and is currently studying for her masters in voice performance at the University of Michigan. She is a 2015 Mbokodo award winner in Opera.

You and your family will enjoy a performance that includes a 45-piece orchestra featuring the Montverde Academy Strings orchestra and members of the Florida Symphony Youth Orchestra under the direction of Hanrich Claassen, in a family friendly event that is free for the entire community to enjoy.
